Seven Peaks Students Volunteering at Miller's Landing on Earth Day

Students and faculty of Seven Peaks School are participating in a volunteer clean-up at the site of a future park on Earth Day. The project takes place on April 22 from 9:45-11:30am at Miller's Landing. Miller's Landing is a 4.7 acre parcel on the east bank of the Deschutes River downstream from the Colorado Avenue bridge. Students will be removing noxious weeds, garbage and dog poop, and marking the area's storm drains. Ruth Williamson, board member for the Bend Park & Recreation District, will deliver remarks to the students about the history of the land and its future as a community park. The district is happy to see children learning about and caring for their public spaces on Earth Day.
